Abstracts

Zinc phosphate ( $Zn_3(PO_4)_2$ ) is an inorganic chemical compound used as a corrosion resistant coating on metal surfaces either as part of an electroplating process or applied as a primer pigment (see also red lead). It has largely displaced toxic materials based on lead or chromium, and by 2006 it had become the most commonly used corrosion inhibitor. Zinc phosphate coats better on a crystalline structure than bare metal, so a seeding agent is often used as a pre-treatment. One common agent is sodium pyrophosphate.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Zinc Phosphate in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. In the past few years, the price of zinc phosphate has a little change and we expect the price will slightly lower, in 2016, the price increased because of the raw materials zinc and zinc oxide. In addition, the improvement of energy, transportation costs, employee wages, and equipment depreciation will play a significant role in promoting the cost of zinc phosphate.

At the same time, companies are focusing on technological innovation, equipment upgrades, and process improvements, to reduce costs and improve quality. With the snatch for market share in emerging regions, the competition in zinc phosphate industry will become more intense.

The worldwide market for Zinc Phosphate is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 0.8% over the next five years, will reach 140 million US$ in 2023, from 130 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
