According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Hollow Nail System market size was valued at US$ 700 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 1029 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 5.7% during review period.

Hollow screw systems are orthopedic internal fixation implants with a hollow structure, allowing for precise insertion under guide pin guidance. They are widely used in fracture fixation, trauma surgery, and minimally invasive orthopedic procedures. The hollow structure improves surgical precision, reduces tissue damage, and enhances postoperative fixation stability. The upstream of the industry chain includes medical metal materials, precision machining, and surface treatment; the midstream involves implant manufacturing and quality testing; and the downstream primarily consists of hospitals, orthopedic surgeons, and rehabilitation medical services. In 2025, the global production of hollow screw systems was approximately 1.62 million units, based on an average unit price of approximately US$420. The overall gross profit margin of the industry ranged from 55% to 70%, reflecting the high technological and regulatory barriers to orthopedic implants. The global production capacity of hollow screw systems in 2025 was approximately 2.16 million units.
