Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Methacrolein market size was valued at US$ 66.66 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 86.09 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 3.7% during review period.

In 2025, the global production of Methacrolein was approximately 35,400 tons, with an average selling price of around US$1,830 per ton. The average production capacity per line is approximately 2,800 tons per year, with an average gross profit margin of 10-20%. Methacrolein is a colorless, volatile liquid organic compound with a strong, pungent odor. It possesses the chemical characteristics of both alkenes and aldehydes and is an important intermediate in the manufacture of fine chemical products such as plastics, resins, coatings, and pharmaceuticals, including methacrylic acid and methyl methacrylate.

The main upstream raw materials for Methacrolein are isobutene/tert-butanol from C4 fractions, as well as formaldehyde and propionaldehyde. Its downstream applications are focused on the intermediate field: as a key organic synthesis intermediate, it is widely used in constructing complex molecular frameworks; it is also an important pharmaceutical intermediate, used in the synthesis of specific drug molecules (such as precursors to certain vitamins and antiviral drugs).
