Huntingtin (Huntington Disease Protein or HTT) - Drugs In Development, 2021

SUMMARY

Huntingtin (Huntington Disease Protein or HTT) - Huntingtin protein is an encoded by the huntingtin gene, also called the HTT or HD (Huntington disease) gene. Huntingtin up regulates the expression of brain derived neurotrophic factor (BDNF) at the transcription level. Huntingtin is primarily associated with vesicles and microtubules. These indicate an important role in cytoskeletal anchoring or transport of mitochondria. The Htt protein is involved in vesicle trafficking as it interacts with HIP1 to mediate endocytosis. Huntingtin also plays an important role in the establishment in epithelial polarity through its interaction with RAB11A.

Huntingtin (Huntington Disease Protein or HTT) pipeline Target constitutes close to 29 molecules. Out of which approximately 26 molecules are developed by companies and remaining by the universities/institutes. The molecules developed by companies in Phase III, Phase II, Phase I, IND/CTA Filed, Preclinical and Discovery stages are 1, 4, 1, 1, 10 and 9 respectively. Similarly, the universities portfolio in Preclinical and Discovery stages comprises 2 and 1 molecules, respectively. Report covers products from therapy areas Central Nervous System and Genetic Disorders which include indications Huntington Disease, Spinocerebellar Ataxia (SCA), Alzheimer's Disease, Kennedy's Disease (Spinal and Bulbar Muscular Atrophy) and Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA).
