Report Overview

Revitalized demand for wooden pieces is propelling the indoor and outdoor furniture industry in India. After suffering from sluggish exports over the past half-decade as a result of the global economic crisis, the sector exhibited strong recovery last fiscal year.

Besides wooden models, metal furniture is driving up foreign sales. Although a relatively smaller segment than the wooden line, it has recorded surging growth in recent years because of its popularity among customers in traditional markets.

The EU and the US are primarily driving demand. The former alone accounts for nearly one-half of total outbound shipments. Emerging destinations are also fueling development, with Australia and the UAE being the leading importers in the Asia-Pacific region and the Middle East, respectively.

This report focuses on the main types of indoor and outdoor furniture from India – living room furniture, bedroom furniture, kitchen & dining furniture, and garden & outdoor furniture.
