Pet Grooming Services Market Growth & Trends

The global pet grooming services market size is expected to reach USD 9.83 billion by 2030, according to a new report by Grand View Research, Inc., registering a CAGR of 7.09% from 2022 to 2030. Increasing humanization of pets, rising number of pet service businesses & premiumization of pet services, and high pet expenditure are some of the key factors contributing to the industry growth. PetPass Mobile Grooming is a U.S.-based start-up founded in 2014 that provides grooming and additional services, such as mud treatments, flea/tick treatments, massage, walking, and yard clean-up to pet parents at home or office. The industry registered reduced revenues during the COVID-19 pandemic due to limited access to groomers and grooming salons. However, as pet parents started working from office, the demand for these services is expected to increase in the coming years.

Key players are using competitive pricing strategies, bundling of services, as well as subscription models to attract and retain new customers. As of August 2022, Pets at Home Group plc had about 7.3 million active members of their VIP loyalty club that benefitted from the company's pet care ecosystem comprising pet products, vet practices, grooming salons, etc. Pet grooming services, both at home and at-commercial facilities have been gaining traction among owners. This is owing to an inclination toward improved physical appearance and increasing awareness about the health & hygiene of companion animals. Pet care marketplaces, such as Groomit, Go Groom It (UAE), etc. are gaining traction as they connect pet parents to groomers. Changing lifestyles in developing countries, such as India, has led to increased preference for commercial grooming packages, which is also expected to drive the industry over the forecast period.
