Abstracts

The global polyimide market size was estimated at USD 1.2 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach USD 2.5 billion by 2033, growing at a CAGR of 9.8% from 2026 to 2033. The rising demand for lightweight and high-performance materials in the electronics and aerospace industries is a significant driver of the global market.

Polyimides exhibit excellent thermal stability, mechanical strength, and chemical resistance, making them ideal for applications in flexible printed circuit boards (FPCBs), semiconductor manufacturing, and aerospace components. The increasing miniaturization of electronic devices, such as smartphones, laptops, and wearables, has led to a higher demand for flexible and durable materials. In aerospace, polyimide composites replace traditional metal components in aircraft interiors and structural parts due to their lightweight nature, which contributes to improved fuel efficiency.
