SUMMARY

An AHMS consists of sensors and data processing hardware and software distributed between the vehicle and its support system. As illustrated in the figure below, the system requires sensors to be positioned on the critical components of the aircraft and relevant sub-systems (aero propulsion, avionics, and structures). The data is collected by the sensing devices and simultaneously the AHMS data is also transmitted to the ground control station (GCS) where additional data warehousing and analysis capabilities are deployed. The state-of-the art technologies use wireless communication networks for transmitting the data from the aircraft to the ground station, so that in-depth analysis can be done, while still in-flight.
