The global CT and PET Scanners market was valued at 6842.27 Million USD in 2021 and will grow with a CAGR of 2.39% from 2021 to 2027, based on HNY Research newly published report.

The prime objective of this report is to provide the insights on the post COVID-19 impact which will help market players in this field evaluate their business approaches. Also, this report covers market segmentation by major market vendors, types, applications/end users and geography(North America, East Asia, Europe, South Asia, Southeast Asia, Middle East, Africa, Oceania, South America).

CT machine, also called X-ray computed tomography (X-ray CT) or computerized axial tomography scan (CAT scan), makes use of computer-processed combinations of many X-ray images taken from different angles to produce cross-sectional (tomographic) images (virtual `slices`) of specific areas of a scanned object, allowing the user to see inside the object without cutting. Digital geometry processing is used to generate a three-dimensional image of the inside of the object from a large series of two-dimensional radiographic images taken around a single axis of rotation. Medical imaging is the most common application of X-ray CT. Its cross-sectional images are used for diagnostic and therapeutic purposes in various medical disciplines. The global market volume CT Scan and PET Scan increased from 10394 Units in 2012 to 12669 Units 2016. North America, Europe and China are the leading production regions of CT Scan and PET Scan. Among them, China is the largest production region in 2016 with 5470 Units in volume. It is about 43.18% of the world total production share. North America and Europe are the following regions with 27.17% and 15.64% of total production share in 2016. Japan also took about 9.47% of the world total production share in 2016. Europe is the largest consumption region of CT Scan and PET Scan in 2016. There are 3527 Units of CT

Scan and PET Scans consumed in Europe in 2016. Europe took about 27.84% of the global total consumption. North America and China are the following regions with 24.93% and 15.95% of total consumption share in 2016.
