Abstracts

The global Facial Cleanser market was valued at 556.35 Million USD in 2021 and will grow with a CAGR of 4.79% from 2021 to 2027, based on HNY Research newly published report.

The prime objective of this report is to provide the insights on the post COVID-19 impact which will help market players in this field evaluate their business approaches. Also, this report covers market segmentation by major market vendors, types, applications/end users and geography(North America, East Asia, Europe, South Asia, Southeast Asia, Middle East, Africa, Oceania, South America).

A cleanser is a facial care product that is used to remove make-up, dead skin cells, oil, dirt, and other types of pollutants from the skin of the face. This helps to unclog pores and prevent skin conditions such as acne. A cleanser can be used as part of a skin care regimen together with a toner and moisturizer. China is the biggest production areas for facial cleanser, taking about 34.68% market share in 2017 (based on outputs). Europe followed the second, with about 22.92% market share. In Consumption market, the consumption market is leading by China and Europe, sales in Other Asia Pacific regions like India and Southeast Asia countries will see significant growth in future period.
