The global Hyaluronic Acid market was valued at 344.17 Million USD in 2021 and will grow with a CAGR of 16.27% from 2021 to 2027, based on HNY Research newly published report.

The prime objective of this report is to provide the insights on the post COVID-19 impact which will help market players in this field evaluate their business approaches. Also, this report covers market segmentation by major market vendors, types, applications/end users and geography(North America, East Asia, Europe, South Asia, Southeast Asia, Middle East, Africa, Oceania, South America).

Hyaluronic acid also called hyaluronan, is an anionic, nonsulfated glycosaminoglycan distributed widely throughout connective, epithelial, and neural tissues. It is unique among glycosaminoglycans in that it is nonsulfated, forms in the plasma membrane instead of the Golgi apparatus, and can be very large: human synovial HA averages about 7 million Da per molecule, or about 20000 disaccharide monomers, while other sources mention 3-4 million Da. As one of the chief components of the extracellular matrix, hyaluronan contributes significantly to cell proliferation and migration, and may also be involved in the progression of some malignant tumors. The classification of Hyaluronic Acid includes Microbial Fermentation and Animal Tissue. The proportion of Microbial Fermentation in 2019 is about 96.65%. Hyaluronic Acid is widely used for Cosmetics, Medical, Dietary Supplement and Other. The most proportion of Hyaluronic Acid is used for Cosmetics, and the proportion in 2019 is about 47.37%. China is the largest production place, with a production market share nearly 86% in 2019. Following China, Japan is the second largest production place with the production market share of 7.13%. Asia-Pacific is the largest consumption place, with a consumption market share nearly 54.7% in 2019. Following Asia-Pacific, North America is the second largest consumption place with the consumption market share of 24.85%. Market competition is intense. Bloomage Biotech, Focus Chem, Fufeng Group, AWA Biopharm etc. are the leaders of the industry.
