Abstracts

This study covers the world outlook for medium density fiberboard across more than 190 countries. For each year reported, estimates are given for the latent demand, or potential industry earnings (P.I.E.), for the country in question (in millions of U.S. dollars), the percent share the country is of the region, and of the globe. These comparative benchmarks allow the reader to quickly gauge a country vis-à-vis others. Using econometric models which project fundamental economic dynamics within each country and across countries, latent demand estimates are created. This report does not discuss the specific players in the market serving the latent demand, nor specific details at the product level. The study also does not consider short-term cyclicalities that might affect realized sales. The study, therefore, is strategic in nature, taking an aggregate and long-run view, irrespective of the players or products involved.

This study covers medium density fiberboard as defined by the North American Industrial Classification system or NAICS (pronounced "nakes").

The NAICS code for medium density fiberboard is 3212193. It is for this definition that aggregate latent demand estimates are derived. Medium density fiberboard is specifically defined as follows:

3212193 Medium density fiberboard

32121931 Medium density fiberboard (MDF) made from MDF produced at the same location

321219311 Industrial medium density fiberboard (MDF) made from MDF produced at the same location

3212193191 Other medium density fiberboard (MDF) made from MDF produced at the same location
