Abstracts

Abstract:

The European gastrointestinal (GI) endoscopic device market includes GI endoscopes, capsule endoscopes, stenting devices, dilation devices, endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatography (ERCP) devices, biopsy forceps, polypectomy snares, hemostasis devices and enteral feeding devices. A recovering economy and new screening programs coupled with high demand for GI screening and intervention procedures resulted in the market experiencing steady growth over the previous year into 2013. Over the 2013 to 2020 forecast period, steady market expansion will be driven by further economic recovery, procedural growth and a higher incidence of GI disease due to an aging population.

Scope of Report: This report pertains to a forecast period of 10 years (2010 – 2020) for the European Market: Germany, France, the United Kingdom (U.K.), Italy, Spain, Benelux (Belgium, Netherlands and Luxemburg), Scandinavia (Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden).
