IEMR's Mobile Operator Forecast on New Zealand provides over 50 operational and financial metrics for New Zealand's wireless market and is one of the best forecasts in the industry. We provide forecasts at the operator level going out to 2016. We also provide quarterly historical and forecast data starting in 1Q2003 and ending in 1Q2014. Operators covered for New Zealand include: Telecom New Zealand Limited (TCNZ), Vodafone New Zealand (Vodafone Plc), and Two Degrees Mobile Limited (2degrees). Our Mobile Operator Forecasts are updated quarterly and are available for one-time delivery or through regular updates.

IEMR's Global Mobile Operator Forecast covers 50+ metrics on 800+ mobile operators in 200+ countries. Our forecasts are based on our proprietary, country-specific forecasting models. These models deploy multiple regression analysis and cross-impact matrices that estimate relationships between subscriber data, technology use and deployment data, overall economic and demographic changes expected in a particular country; and relate these to company operational and financial metrics.
