Abstracts

The global automotive infotainment market size reached US$ 18.1 Billion in 2022. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 29.4 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 8.35% during 2023-2028.

Automotive infotainment refers to an in-vehicle device that provides a combination of entertainment and information to passengers and drivers. They include control elements, such as button panels, touch screen displays, voice commands, and audio/video (A/V) interfaces, which ensure the safety of passengers while staying connected on the road. Besides this, they are integrated with advanced features, such as navigational services, vehicle voice control, parking assistance, climate control, two-way communications tools, and security services, to enhance the overall driving experience and operational efficiency of commercial vehicles.

Automotive Infotainment Market Trends:

The boosting sales of passenger vehicles on account of rapid urbanization, improving road networks, and inflating income levels represent one of the key factors bolstering the market growth. This can also be attributed to the shifting consumer preference for the customization of vehicles with high-end comfort and convenience products like smart infotainment in base models. In addition, the widespread adoption of smartphones, in confluence with the high penetration of internet connectivity, is propelling market growth. Apart from this, several automotive companies are expanding their production and distribution facilities to meet the growing demand for luxury and premium vehicle models with the latest infotainment systems. Furthermore, the rising adoption of navigation and vehicle control units in commercial vehicles to minimize the response time during emergencies and the risk of road accidents is contributing to the market growth. Besides this, the integration of technological advancements to introduce infotainment devices with innovative features, such as in-car Wi-Fi, driver assistance, and voice recognition, for enhancing driver comfort and safety are anticipated to create a favorable outlook for the market in the coming years.
