Abstracts

The global customer journey analytics market size reached US$ 13.0 Billion in 2023. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 48.6 Billion by 2032, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 15.4% during 2024-2032.

Customer journey analytics refers to the process of analyzing and tracking customer experience across every touchpoint in the customer journey. It involves acquisition, activation and adoption as its three main stages. It is widely used by organizations and enterprises to provide real-time insights into customer behavior. Customer journey analytics encompasses advanced analytics methods, such as customer segmentation, predictive analytics and real-time analytics. It combines data from every channel into a single interface that assists in making better decisions with a holistic view. It also aids in predicting customer behavior, improving consumer experience, increasing revenue and boosting customer acquisition. As a result, it is widely used across telecommunications, healthcare, hospitality, travel, and banking, financial services and insurance (BFSI) industries.

Customer Journey Analytics Market Trends:

The emergence of digitalization across the globe is creating a positive outlook for market growth. In addition to this, the increasing need to convert information into digital form to gain insights that support strategic decision-making in various organizations is favoring the market growth. Moreover, the widespread product adoption to perform traffic and e-commerce analytics is driving the development of the market. Apart from this, various technological advancements, such as the integration of artificial intelligence (AI) that assists in providing intelligent, convenient and informed customer experience during the customer journey, are providing an impetus to the market growth.

Furthermore, the increasing product demand in the retail and e-commerce industries to track the customer journey across multiple channels in real-time and the introduction of personalized omnichannel experience is positively impacting the market growth. Other factors, including widespread adoption of analytics software in various industries, increasing penetration of smartphones, and the growing demand for consistent customer support across multiple platforms, are anticipated to drive the market further.

Key Market Segmentation:

IMARC Group provides an analysis of the key trends in each sub-segment of the global customer journey analytics market report, along with forecasts at the global, regional and country level from 2024-2032. Our report has categorized the market based on component, touchpoint, deployment, organization size, application and industry vertical.
