Market Overview:

The global golf equipment market size reached US$ 7.6 Billion in 2022. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 9.7 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 4% during 2023-2028.

Golf equipment refers to the products and items used to play the sport of golf. It includes golf balls, clubs, shoes, bags, gloves, gears, wear, cart, towels, putters, wedges, ball markers, club head cover, and other devices. Playing golf is considered a good exercise, which, in turn, assists in improving sleep patterns, reducing anxiety, depression, blood pressure and boosting creative thinking. Whereas golf equipment aids in enhancing performance, improving consistency, and providing golf swing, comfort, protection, and grip.

Golf Equipment Market Trends:

The growing popularity of golf across the globe is creating a positive outlook for the market. With the rising health consciousness among the masses, golf is widely adopted as a physical activity as it assists in weight loss and improves heart health and concentration. In line with this, a surge in golf courses, increasing popularity of golf tournaments in various countries, and rising participation rates, especially amongst the millennials, is favoring the market growth. Moreover, various product innovations, such as the introduction of smart sensors and smart grips, are providing an impetus to the market growth. They are widely used to automatically record and analyze every shot and detect pressure levels. Additionally, top players are focusing on innovations and new product developments, such as golf putters and drivers made from recyclable materials, which is providing them with a competitive edge in the market. They are also considerably investing in marketing and promotional activities, which is helping them in broadening their geographical presence and customer base. Apart from this, extensive fundings by governments of various nations to improve golf infrastructure, rising expenditure capacities of consumers, and easy product availability across e-commerce websites are anticipated to drive the market further.
