Market Overview:

The North America healthcare packaging market size reached US$ 48.0 Billion in 2022. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 68.9 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 6.1% during 2023-2028.

Healthcare packaging is utilized for providing protection to and information about any medical device or pharmaceutical product. It safeguards the product from physical damage and chemical deterioration by preventing exposure to oxygen, moisture, light and temperature fluctuations. Furthermore, healthcare packaging helps in preserving highest medical guidelines and standards of the products as it employs unique specifications and sterilization before packaging. Besides this, it further aids in ensuring the stability of the product during its storage.

The North America healthcare packaging market is currently being driven by several factors. With rising technological advancements in the healthcare industry, there has been an increase in the demand for disposable medical packaging. In addition to this, the growing environmental concerns have fueled the demand for efficient and biodegradable healthcare packaging in the region. Moreover, the high disposable incomes, coupled with the rising investments in the healthcare sector is also contributing to the market growth in the region.

Key Market Segmentation:

IMARC Group provides an analysis of the key trends in each segment of the North America healthcare packaging market report, along with forecasts at the regional and country levels from 2023-2028. Our report has categorized the market based on product, material, packaging, drug delivery mode and application.
