The North America pasta market size reached US$ 6.2 Billion in 2023. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 8.9 Billion by 2032, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 4% during 2024-2032.

Pasta is a staple food of the Italian cuisine, which is prepared using flour, water, eggs, vegetables, and oil. Different types of pasta is currently available in the market, which includes penne, Barbine, fettuccine, farfalle and spaghetti. In the traditional manner, it is prepared by boiling, mixing with sauces and adding different vegetables or meat. Furthermore, pasta can either be added to soups/ salads or stuffed with cheese, meat, vegetable, prior to boiling or baking.

The North America pasta market is currently being driven by several factors. The hectic schedules of the consumers have positively influenced the demand for easy-to-cook food items such as pasta. Moreover, various manufacturers across the region have introduced different variants of flavored pasta along with value-added products that offer more fiber, less carbohydrate, gluten-free, and fortified varieties. The high disposable incomes of the consumers, coupled with the easy availability of pasta in hypermarkets, supermarkets, and departmental stores, have further propelled the market growth in the region.
