Abstracts

The global pet furniture market size reached US$ 3.5 Billion in 2022. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 4.7 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 5.04% during 2022-2028.

Pet furniture, also known as animal-friendly furniture, is designed to meet the needs of different pets, including dogs, cats, rabbits, hamsters, and fish. It is made using safe and durable materials to suit the natural needs and behavior of pets. Some of the commonly used pet furniture includes beds, hammocks, doghouses, dog coolers, cat trees, parrot tents, and play equipment. At present, it is widely available in numerous shapes, sizes and colors among pet specialty stores and other markets.

Pet Furniture Market Trends:

The increasing adoption of pets, especially among the millennial population, across the globe represents one of the key factors bolstering the growth of the market. Apart from this, as domestic animals are treated like family members, there is an increase in spending on toys, travel accessories, beds, clothing items, collars, leashes, medicine, gift, bowls and grooming and veterinary services. This, in confluence with the rising availability of pet insurance, is contributing to market growth. Moreover, there is a significant rise in the demand for innovative and fashionable pet accessories, such as furniture. As a result, leading market players are focusing on multi-functional and stylish product innovation to meet consumer preferences. They are also following a design-centric approach to compliment the home decor of the pet owners and consequently employing designer prints and premium fabrics, faux furs, and wickers for the product manufacturing. Besides this, they are utilizing natural and environment-friendly raw materials, such as jute and banana leaves. In addition, a rise in the trend of bringing and keeping pets in offices is positively influencing the demand for multi-functional pet furniture, which is acting as another growth-inducing factor.
