Abstracts

The global social media analytics market reached a value of US$ 7.0 Billion in 2021. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 29.1 Billion by 2027, exhibiting a CAGR of 22.06% during 2022-2027. Keeping in mind the uncertainties of COVID-19, we are continuously tracking and evaluating the direct as well as the indirect influence of the pandemic on different end use industries. These insights are included in the report as a major market contributor.

Social media analytics (SMA) is a tool that assists in tracking, collecting, and evaluating data from social networking platforms for making informed business decisions. It helps companies understand the latest trends, drive customer engagement, identify high-value features for products and services, and map third-party partners and channels. As a result, it finds applications worldwide for understanding social media performance, creating customized reports, keeping track of important social media metrics, and analyzing the brand image and customer demographics in real-time.

Social Media Analytics Market Trends:

Due to the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) outbreak, businesses around the world are striving for stability and survival to minimize the impact of the pandemic on overall operations and revenue. As a result, companies are relying on advanced analytics like SMA to understand the real-time scenario of the pandemic through social media interactions across the globe. Apart from this, the surging use of social media networking sites on account of the rising penetration of the Internet and boosting sales of smartphones is contributing to market growth. Moreover, organizations are focusing on analyzing sales to improve their market presence and gain a competitive edge. In addition, the rising brand consciousness and considerable shift towards better quality and low-priced products and fast delivery of services are influencing the demand for SMA. The tool helps in analyzing unstructured social data to respond to the dynamic market conditions and achieve higher goals and operational profitability. Furthermore, a software-as-a-service (SaaS) model is nowadays incorporated to enable the use of SMA solutions on the cloud. As cloud computing offers flexibility, reliability, scalability, and low costs, it is projected to influence the market positively.
