Abstracts

The global terrazzo flooring market size reached US$ 25.9 Billion in 2023. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 33.4 Billion by 2032, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 2.8% during 2024-2032.

Terrazzo flooring is made by combining granite, marble, quartz, shell, glass, or other suitable materials with a cement or epoxy resin binder. It comprises epoxy and cementitious floorings which can be used both indoors and outdoors. It is non-porous, mold and chemical resistant with low maintenance and lifecycle costs, and easy to clean without any scouring, polishing, or scrubbing. It has high durability, better color consistency and performance, and anti-slip features. As a result, terrazzo flooring finds extensive applications in the education, healthcare, residential, commercial, and government sectors.

Terrazzo Flooring Market Trends:

At present, there is a rise in construction and renovation activities in the residential and commercial sectors around the world. This, along with the growing demand for green and eco-friendly floorings, represents one of the key factors driving the market. Moreover, there is an increase in the construction of educational institutes and universities worldwide. This, coupled with the rising interior designing in the construction industry, is strengthening the growth of the market. Additionally, the escalating demand for aesthetically appealing outdoor entertainment areas among millennial property buyers is positively influencing the market. Apart from this, several benefits offered by terrazzo floorings, such as creative finishing and high design flexibility, are propelling the growth of the market. Besides this, rising investments in retrofitting activities across the globe are offering lucrative growth opportunities to industry investors. In addition, key market players are focusing on various marketing strategies, such as business development and mergers and acquisition (M&A), to increase their overall sales and profitability. In line with this, the versatility and suitability of terrazzo floorings for bedrooms, bathrooms, or kitchens is bolstering the growth of the market.
