Abstracts

The packaging, construction, and pharmaceutical industries all have a great need for biobased adhesives. The biobased adhesive industry's most critical applications are in packaging and paper. Adhesives made from biomaterials are used in the packaging industry to create rigid cardboard boxes, multi-layer films, tapes, labels, and other products. Due to the environmentally friendly environment, biobased adhesives must be suited for food packaging since they improve the product's performance in terms of binding strength, durability, and flexibility.
