Abstracts

The Asia Pacific Hydrotherapy Equipment Market would witness market growth of 5.6% CAGR during the forecast period (2020-2026).

The market is expected to be driven by the increase in awareness of therapeutic hydrotherapy, especially following post-surgery or cardiovascular procedures.

Hydrotherapy technology is used for stress relief, recovery of cancer patients, treatment of skin diseases, and musculoskeletal disorders, among others. The demand for hydrotherapy for pain management is rising due to increasing cases of the spinal cord and orthopedic injuries. Several organizations are undertaking initiatives by offering public use of hydrotherapy pools to increase awareness and acceptance of treatment. Associations such as the World Federation of Hydrotherapy and Climatotherapy (FEMTEC) are organizing activities, such as presentations and conferences, to bring together the healthcare sector and promote hydrotherapy.

Hydrotherapy used in conventional drugs can have antioxidant and anti-inflammatory effects, according to a report reported in the International Journal of Rheumatic Diseases in 2017. In the study, participants with rheumatoid arthritis received either traditional or modern medication hydrotherapy alone for 12 weeks. At the end of the study, the group receiving hydrotherapy had an improvement in antioxidant and oxidative stress levels.

Cardiovascular rehabilitation practices are introducing hydrotherapy for the effective treatment of the patient. Aquatic Cardiac Rehabilitation (ACR) is an aerobic exercise program performed in a pool to enhance cardio-respiratory fitness in patients with pulmonary or coronary atherosclerotic illness who are unable to perform orthopedic treatment on the ground. Hydrotherapy also offers advantages such as the reduced risk of cardiovascular disease (CVD) and increased myocardial perfusion.
