Abstracts

Incident response is a systematic process of addressing and managing the security breach or attack. The primary goal of the process is to control the situation and limit the potential damage caused and also take steps to minimize recovery time and cost involved. Incident response lays down set of instructions that provide clear procedures to respond to a number of potential scenarios such as data breaches, denial of service/distributed denial of service attacks, firewall breaches, virus or malware outbreaks or insider threats. Without an incident response plan in place, organizations would not be either be in a position to detect the attack in the first place, or may not go by a set of effective protocols which would help in containing the threat. To create a seamless and a highly efficient work environment, companies and enterprises alike are readily accepting BYOD trends.
