The Asia Pacific Recycled Glass Market would witness market growth of 7.3% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025).

Recycling glass is mainly obtained from bottles and jars of food and drink and includes clear green and amber glass. Cookware glass, light bulbs, drinking glass, and window glass are not appropriate for recycling. The melting points of these types of glasses vary in comparison with food and drink jars and bottles. Glass is usually sorted in a Material Recovery Facility (MRF) from recycled waste and further refined (beneficiated) for re-processing reasons.

There is a mandatory beverage container deposit program in several countries where glass containers are collected. In the beverage deposit program, residents are usually required to pay a deposit on glass bottles and other containers and then return them to the refurbishment collection centers. Various laws and deposit amounts have been laid down.
