Abstracts

The Global Rugged Display Market size is expected to reach $10.5 billion by 2023, rising at a market growth of 6.5% CAGR during the forecast period. The key drivers that have driven the market growth are cut in the total cost of ownership (TCO) offered by ruggedized products, when compared to consumer-grade devices in rough environments and rapid growth in the demand for HMI and IoT in different industrial sectors. The growth in the adoption of consumer-grade display devices in various industrial applications would significantly limit the growth of the market.
