Abstracts

The Global Smartphone Sanitizer Market size is expected to reach $366 Million by 2026, rising at a market growth of 12.1% CAGR during the forecast period. Expanding consumers' awareness with respect to proper hygiene and sanitization of their personal belongings, for example, smartphones, as they are prone to bacteria or germs contamination is probably going to drive the interest for smartphone sanitizer over the forecast period.

A smartphone sanitizer is an item that is utilized to clean or disinfect the surface of a smartphone in a thorough manner. A smartphone sanitizer can be as easy as disinfectant wipes or as advanced as UV sanitizer devices, which target microorganisms, dust, and debris to avert breakouts and the spread of germs. Because of the regular utilization of smartphone, these devices become a hotbed for microscopic organisms and infections. The researchers at the University of Arizona found that the average person's smartphone is 10 times dirtier than a toilet seat. However, genuine smartphone sanitizers can keep them clean.

Some UV smartphone sanitizer eliminates microscopic organisms as well as provides fast-speed charging to the smartphone. With the current outbreak of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19), the majority of the individuals are taking additional preventive measures by washing as well as sanitizing their hands, wearing a face mask, and continually sanitizing regular areas, for example, kitchen and washrooms. However, many people don't know that electronic devices and their personal belongings can hold a larger number of germs than the toilet. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), cleaning or sanitizing electronic devices, for example, smartphones, through alcohol-based wipes or sprays, which contain a minimum of 70% alcohol or utilizing UV sanitizer box can prevent the spreading of germs and even novel coronavirus.
