Abstracts

The Global Urinary Drainage Bags Market size is expected to reach $2.3 billion by 2026, rising at a market growth of 5.7% CAGR during the forecast period. Urine drainage bags collect urine and are mostly used in hospitals. This bag is designed in such a way that it is attached to a catheter (tube) or sheath that is put inside the urinary bladder of an individual. Urinary drainage bags are useful for the patients who are suffering from urine incontinence, urinary retention, gynaecological or urological surgeries where a patient is not able to move from one place to another and find it difficult to urinate or other health-related issues.

A urinary catheter is positioned inside the urinary bladder of the patients through the urethra. It is kept in the bladder with the help of a small, water-filled balloon. The catheter or tube is attached to a bag to collect urine that is then drained through the catheter. Urinary Drainage Bags are either small size leg bags or it can be a large size night bag. These are extensively used in clinics, hospitals, and surgical centers. These bags can be disposed of or reused depending on the type. There is a high demand for disposable bags as compared to reusable bags due to the increased risk of infection-related with reusable urinary drainage bags.

The global urinary drainage bags market is compelled by a rising in the number of gynaecological, and urological surgeries. An increase in the incidence of urinary bladder cancers is expected to boost the demand for urinary drainage bags. The rise in the geriatric population which is suffering from one or more chronic diseases like paralysis, Alzheimer's disease, and end-stage renal diseases are the factors that are expected to drive the market of global urinary drainage bags. An increase in the incidence of urinary incontinence is probable to propel the market. Though there is a risk of urinary tract infections as well as skin irritation that is associated with drainage bags use, and therefore it is a major factor limiting the global market of urinary drainage bags. There is a higher demand and increased preference for disposable urine drainage bags as compared to reusable urinary drainage bags and this is because disposable bags reduce the risk of skin irritation and urinary tract infections. Furthermore, innovation in technologies for designing urological catheters is presenting substantial opportunities in the global market.
