Abstracts

The LAMEA Acute Hospital Care Market would witness market growth of 8.1% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025). The LAMEA Acute Hospital Care market is studied across the Brazil, Argentina, UAE, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Nigeria and Rest of LAMEA. The Middle East and northern Africa have a big problem with cardiovascular diseases, which is expected to get worse over the next ten years. This can be linked to the combination of increased risk factors and, in certain areas, political instability and violence. In the United Arab Emirates, the government is undertaking a variety of initiatives to make people aware of cardiovascular diseases, along with national drives highlighting the benefits of early screening, and health promotion in schools.

Around one out of every three adolescents in the world die from multiple chronic conditions (MCCs). Cardiovascular diseases, asthma, cancer, and severe breathing disorders are the most prevalent of the chronic diseases, and, as stated by the World Health Organization, together they account for 41 million fatalities every year in the globe, which is growing. The Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) reported that around 50% of all adults in the United States have 1 or 2 chronic diseases and that 25% have two or more (CDCs 2017).

The Emergency Care market dominated the LAMEA Acute Hospital Care Market by Medical Condition in 2018, and would continue to be a dominant market till 2025; thereby, achieving a market value of $150.1 Billion by 2025, growing at a CAGR of 7.7 % during the forecast period. The Trauma Care market is expected to witness a CAGR of 7.6% during (2019 - 2025).

A broad variety of facilities for the emergency treatment of individuals living with or recovering from limb-threatening conditions can be linked to the vast majority of the emergency services provided. Acute compartment syndrome and brachial artery aneurysm are considered as limb-threatening situations.

The growth in demand for these hospitals is linked to the enormous opportunity creation for market players. Large scale hospitals address this increased demand by building more facilities.
