Abstracts

The Latin America, Middle East and Africa Metal Finishing Chemicals Market would witness market growth of 5.95% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025).

Conversion coatings are used for providing metal coatings in chemical and electrochemical conversions. Phosphates, chromates, and black oxide are the chemicals used in conversion coatings. Such coatings provide a mild resistance to corrosion and improve field performance and adhesion to paint. The conversion of chromate is primarily used on aluminium surfaces while the conversion of zinc and iron phosphate on steel substrates is used. Increasing the use of conversion coatings for metal pre-treatment is anticipated to boost demand in the coming years as it induces anti-corrosive properties on substrates.

Electroplating emerged as the largest process segment in 2018 and accounted for a substantial market share. This process is primarily used in plating and electrical and electronic plating for automotive applications. It is a cheaper alternative to electroless plating and galvanizing, which is expected to be the segment's major driving force. However, strict chromium and cadmium electroplating environmental regulations are predicted to hamper market expansion throughout the forecast period.

Based on Product, the market is segmented into Plating Chemicals, Cleaning Chemicals, Conversion Coatings, and Other Products. Based on Application, the market is segmented into Automotive, Electrical & Electronics, Aerospace, Construction and Other Applications. Based on Process, the market is segmented into Electroplating, Chemical & Electro-chemical Conversion, Electroless Plating and Other Process. Based on countries, the market is segmented into Brazil, Argentina, UAE, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Nigeria, and Rest of LAMEA.
