Abstracts

The North America Disposable Endoscopes Market would witness market growth of 17.9% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025).

Medical waste generates disposable endoscopes which pose a threat to the environment. It has resulted in less preference among professional healthcare workers for disposable endoscopes, which in effect hampers the market growth. Low adoption of disposable endoscopes also serves as a restriction of the global market in developing regions. An article published in the Open Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology (2016) reported that the prevalence of acquired health-care-associated infections in developing and underdeveloped regions is 2 to 20 times higher than in developed regions.

A major factor driving demand for disposable endoscopes is the growing prevalence of nosocomial infections due to the contamination of endoscopes. Recent advancements in disposable endoscopes, particularly bronchoscopes and colonoscopies, are also expected to have a positive impact on market growth in the coming years. An increasing need for cost savings in endoscopy procedures increases the demand for disposable endoscopes, as these are more cost-effective as compared to the reusable endoscopes.

Based on Application, the market is segmented into Bronchoscopy, GI endoscopy, ENT

Endoscopy, Urologic endoscopy, Arthroscopy and Others. Based on End Use, the market is segmented into Diagnostic Centers, Clinics and Hospitals. Based on countries, the market is segmented into U.S., Mexico, Canada, and Rest of North America.
