Abstracts

The North America Hydrotherapy Equipment Market would witness market growth of 3.6% CAGR during the forecast period (2020-2026).

Hydrotherapy relies on its mechanical and thermal effects to stimulate healing. It takes advantage of the body's reaction to cold or hot stimuli, the pressure exerted by water, the prolonged application of heat, and the sensation of water. These sensations and effects are then moved deeper into the skin by the nerves. As that happens, these sensations activate the immune system, influencing the production of stress hormones thereby improving digestion, breathing, and blood flow, as well as reducing the responsiveness of the body to pain. In most cases, heat is used to relieve and soothe the body, while slowing down the activity of the internal organs.

Patient rehabilitation aims to enable patients to work in an unassisted manner, in their normal living environment, after injury or illness. Patients need to re-learn how to walk after recovering from a coma or brain injury. And patients who have had trauma to their arms or legs need to recover the range of motion of their joints or spine. Hydrotherapy equipment is an effective recovery tool.

The underwater treadmill is now the most advanced accessory on the market. At the bottom of the pool and even on moving floors, the underwater loop can be integrated. It enables the patient to perform stationary walking activities under varying levels of gravity as an underwater treadmill is built into the moving floor, opening up a wide variety of therapeutic possibilities. The underwater treadmill is one of the most versatile components of hydrotherapy equipment paired with an overhead camera system for data capturing throughout the session.

Older adults with joint and muscle pain may find relief with underwater treadmill therapy. Even if people with chronic problems such as osteoarthritis frequently avoid tasks like walking and exercise, some of the discomforts will eventually disappear. The natural hydrostatic pressure of the water helps the healing process for those with chronic pain conditions. While in the water chest deep, patients can wear up to 20% of their body weight. Water not only decreases pain and tends to relax muscles, but enhances resilience and increases flexibility.

Based on End Users, the market is segmented into Spa & Wellness Centers, Hospitals & Rehabilitation Centers and Others. Based on Type, the market is segmented into Hydrotherapy Pools, Hydrotherapy Tub/Bath, Chambers/Tanks, Underwater Treadmill and Others.
