Abstracts

The North America Recycled Glass Market would witness market growth of 6% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025).

The recycling of glass is a common practice, and many communities are involved in curbside collection programs for glass bottle and container collection. The glass packaging industry is in demand of recycled glass because it needs less energy to process, and is thus less expensive than virgin glass. However, broken glass shards can lead to contamination and safety concerns when a glass is mixed with other materials in the recycling process. Another consideration is that the consumer is being shifted to plastic with fewer and fewer glass containers. Based on these trends, certain communities have progressively prevented recycling glass at curbside. However, even as some cities curtail glass recycling, alternative recycling options for this material can also be available.

Based on Product Type, the market is segmented into Cullet, Crushed Glass and Glass Powder. Based on Application, the market is segmented into Bottle & Container, Flat Glass, Fiber Glass, Highway Beads and Others. Based on countries, the market is segmented into U.S., Mexico, Canada, and Rest of North America.
