Abstracts

The North America Security Paper Market would witness market growth of 6.3% CAGR during the forecast period (2019-2025).

One of the main components used in the production of security paper is the polymer substrate. The polymer's lengthy lifespan has contributed to the increasing demand for plastic in security paper manufacturing. Hybrid security papers are yet another type of substrate that are special papers with security features that contain watermarks, safety fibers, and threads which are used in different types of security documents. Hybrid documents include photo documents, substrates of polymers, and fibers. Hybrid documents are UV-light luminescent and comprise unique supplements and chemical components that avoid mechanical and chemical deletions and other fraud types.

Safety papers are used in security printing with features that can be used for the identification or authentication of a document as original, such as watermarks and invisible fibers or features showing tamper evidence in attempting, e.g., to delete or modify printed materials such as amounts or signatures on a cheque. Examples of such papers are those used to identify such as passports and certificates, such as birth certificates and various kinds of educational and qualifying certificates, as well as public records, like voting cards and tax strips.

Based on Type, the market is segmented into Hybrid Paper, Watermark, Hologram, Thread & UV Fiber and Others. Based on Application, the market is segmented into Currency Notes, Bank Documents, Medical Reports & Prescription, Identity Cards & Certificates, Legal & Government, Passports & Visas and Others. Based on countries, the market is segmented into U.S., Mexico, Canada, and Rest of North America.
