Abstracts

The Czech Republic infection control market is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 6.95% over the forecast period of 2019 to 2025. The market in the Czech Republic is projected to grow in the forecast period owing to the advanced healthcare facilities with the presence of renowned doctors in the world. Also, the country is considered to be one of the favourite destinations for medical tourism in Europe, hence propelling the market demand in the forecast period and in the upcoming years. With a high demand for beauty treatments, Czechia is providing such treatments at affordable costs, hence, the country emerged as the most preferred destination and is continuing to attract medical tourists from abroad, further providing an opportunity for the market to thrive in the forecast period. The robotics research in the country is propagating the market demand with the growing research activities resulting in the development of robotic devices and their application in various fields, this is further providing an impetus for the market to grow at a significant pace in the forecast period. The use of robotics in surgery is also in trend in the Czech Republic.

The presence of fertility clinics in Czech Republic is driving the market growth in the forecast period.

The country offers excellent services in the case of infertility treatments. There are at present around 30 clinics with a high standard of treatment. Also, the clinics are well-regulated. Prague and Brno are the most popular cities for in-vitro fertilization (IVF) but there are other centers in different parts of the country offering fertility treatments that are economical. The IVF and egg donation success rates are also high, specifically, the egg donation rate. Additionally, the treatments are quite reasonable leading to huge savings and without compromising with quality and safety. Hence, IVF treatments are considered cost-effective in comparison to the United Kingdom. Talking in terms of safety, the IVF clinics in Czechia is well-regulated and are well-monitored. All the IVF clinics are required to carry a valid license in order to operate in this field. The license is granted by the State Institute for Drug Control and is responsible for inspection of these fertility clinics every two years.

The innovations in the field of robotics are further providing an opportunity for the market to thrive in the forecast period.

The CTU, Czech Technical University, situated in Prague is the oldest institute of technology in the Central European region. The institute stands at the forefront in the field of robotics research. The research teams in the university are working on varied technologies focusing on the advancements in robotic devices and applications of robotics which include human-robot interaction as well. The NIFTi project is about researching on human-robot interaction where a team or teams of robots and humans are working together for a task or group of tasks in order to achieve a common goal. Every year, NIFTi performs the evaluation of its robotic systems with several USAR (urban search and rescue) organizations. The rescue personnel collaborate with NIFTi robots for carrying out realistic missions in real-life scenarios.

Additionally, the ongoing trend of robotics being used for conducting multiple surgeries in the Czech Republic is further augmenting the market demand in the forecast period.
