Abstracts

The US animal feed market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 2.40% over the forecast period to reach US$83.663 billion in 2024 from US$72.568 billion in 2018. Rising consumer awareness about the safety of animal products couple with outbursts of diseases in animals is the major factor contributing to the increasing demand for animal feed during the forecast period. In addition, presence of major market players in the region is further expected to propel the market growth opportunities in the coming years. However, stringent regulatory structure about the animal feed production is expected to hinder the market opportunities in the coming years.

This research study examines the current market trends related to the demand, supply, and sales, in addition to the recent developments. Major drivers, restraints, and opportunities have been covered to provide an exhaustive picture of the market.
