Over the years the share of the private sector in the provision of health care delivery has increased to more than 75% of all outpatient care and about 60% of all in-patient care. The presence of private sector is widespread across the entire Indian healthcare landscape from providing healthcare delivery services, entry of corporate groups in managing and creation of healthcare infrastructure and imparting quality medical education.

The private healthcare delivery model is distributed in hospitals, nursing homes (kind of small hospital operated by a doctor or a group of doctors) and outpatient clinics. Indian Hospital Services market is primarily dominated by private players and there are few big players present in the market making it an oligopoly market. Apollo Hospitals Enterprise Ltd (Apollo), MAX Healthcare (MAX), Fortis Healthcare (Fortis), Global Hospitals (Global) and CARE Hospitals (CARE) are some of the leading players in Private Hospital Services market.

The Private Hospital Services Market in India is expected to poise a high growth in future backed by increasing demand, favorable government policies and rising investment. Report highlights the expansion in Tier II cities as the next growth frontier for the private hospitals chains operating in India.
