A shock absorber (also known as damper) is a mechanical or hydraulic device designed to absorb and damp shock impulses in an automotive or motorcycle. It does this by converting the kinetic energy of the shock into another form of energy which is then dissipated. Most shock absorbers are a form of dashpot.

China is the largest supplier of shock absorber with many local manufacturers and some plant built by international manufacturers like ZF, Tenneco, Showa, KYB and Mando. Each international manufacturer may have a capacity over tens of million units. The twin-tube design is most used on cars, light trucks, SUV's and vans. It's a cost effective and it can provide excellent handling & control characteristics for most driving conditions. The mono-tube design offers additional performance and can have a more aggressive ride.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Shock Absorber will register a 2.7% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ 18600 million by 2023, from US$ 15800 million in 2017.
