Abstracts

The report requires updating with new data and is sent in 48 hours after order is placed.

In this report, LP Information covers the present scenario (with the base year being 2017) and the growth prospects of global Agate market for 2018-2023.

Agates are semi-precious gemstones that are a variegated form of chalcedony, which is silicon dioxide in the form of microscopic fibrous quartz crystals.

Agates naturally develop when an empty pocket inside a host rock fills in molecule-by-molecule, layer-by-layer as these microcrystals self-organize to form concentric bands or other patterns. The colors and arrangement of the microcrystals are influenced by changes in pressure, temperature, and mineral content that occur during the formation process.

Unlike other gemstones, each agate is unique. Even slabs cut from the same specimen will vary in color and design.

Agate is a cryptocrystalline variety of silica (SiO<sub>2</sub>), chiefly chalcedony, characterised by its fineness of grain and brightness of color. There are gray agate, red agate, blue agate and purple agate, etc. But gray agate or motley agate are cheap and use for wall decorations and dyed agate product. Red and blue agates are high value agate stones. Agate can be designed, carved and processed to various decoration products (hand catenaries, necklaces, pendants, wall decorations and sculptures), grinding balls and mortars with pestle, etc.

Agate is widely found in China, Brazil, Uruguay, USA, India, Australia, Mexico, Madagascar, Egypt, Argentina, Namibia, Mozambique, etc. Currently, Brazil and Uruguay are key exporters of agate stone, and the stone is mainly imported by China to produce agate products. The agate stone from Brazil and Uruguay is usually cheaper than local agate stone.

China is the largest consumption country of agate products in the world in the past few years and it will keep the same position in the next few years. The Chinese consumption took up about 50% the global market in 2015. America shared about 17%, both of EMEA and India closely took up about 10% the world.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Agate will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
