Blotting paper, sometimes called bibulous paper, is a highly absorbent type of paper or other material. It is used to absorb an excess of liquid substances (such as ink or oil) from the surface of writing paper or objects. Blotting paper referred to as bibulous paper is mainly used in microscopy to remove excess liquids from the slide before viewing. Blotting paper has also been sold as a cosmetic to aid in the removal of skin oils and makeup.

Lighter, more absorbent, and with more attractive packages, blotting sheets are as compact and easy-to-carry as ever; some innovations include packaging updates, added skincare components, and increased absorbency depending on the brand's offer. Regardless of which style you choose, blotting papers in general are an exceptional touch-up tool; with just a quick dab, these sheets absorb any lingering grease on your face, allowing for your touch-up makeup to adhere better to the skin.
