In this report, LP Information studies the present scenario (with the base year being 2017) and the growth prospects of global Integrated Building Management Systems market for 2018-2023.

A building management system is a computer system designed to keep track of, and control, the various systems in a building. These systems include: Power, Climate control, Building entry/exit, Water (pumps), Elevators and Lights.

In terms of a building management system, what integrated means is that the building's system management capabilities were part of the building's initial design. In other words, they weren't added after-the-fact. Take, for example, an extension to a house, like another bedroom. This is something a lot of families consider when their needs change with time. If the bedroom were integrated, it would have been designed and built when the rest of the house was. It would exist when you moved in.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Integrated Building Management Systems will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
