In this report, LP Information covers the present scenario (with the base year being 2017) and the growth prospects of global Unidirectional Tapes (UD Tapes) market for 2018-2023.

A unidirectional (UD) fabric is one in which the majority of fibres run in one direction only. A small amount of fibre or other material may run in other directions with the main intention being to hold the primary fibres in position, although the other fibres may also offer some structural properties. For mechanical properties, unidirectional fabrics can only be improved on by prepreg unidirectional tape, where there is no secondary material at all holding the unidirectional fibres in place.

North America accounts for a major share of the overall UD tapes market. Major factors driving the growth of the North America UD tapes market include the high demand for UD tapes in the US and Canada. This is due to the growing demand for UD tapes in commercial passenger aircraft.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Unidirectional Tapes (UD Tapes) will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
