In this report, LP Information covers the present scenario (with the base year being 2017) and the growth prospects of global Waterproofing Coating market for 2018-2023.

Waterproofing is the process of making an object or structure waterproof or water-resistant so that it remains relatively unaffected by water or resisting the ingress of water under specified conditions. Such items may be used in wet environments or underwater to specified depths. Water resistant and waterproof often refer to penetration of water in its liquid state and possibly under pressure, whereas damp proof refers to resistance to humidity or dampness. Permeation of water vapor through a material or structure is reported as a moisture vapor transmission rate. The hulls of boats and ships were once waterproofed by applying tar or pitch. Modern items may be waterproofed by applying water-repellent coatings or by sealing seams with gaskets or o-rings. Waterproofing is used in reference to building structures (such as basements, decks, or wet areas), watercraft, canvas, clothing (raincoats or waders), electronic devices and paper packaging (such as cartons for liquids).

The Asia-Pacific will occupy for more Waterproofing Coating market share in following years, especially in China, also fast-growing India and Southeast Asia regions. North America, especially the United States, will still play an important role which cannot be ignored. Any changes from United States might affect the development trend of Waterproofing Coating market.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Waterproofing Coating will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
