Abstracts

The report requires updating with new data and is sent in 48 hours after order is placed.

In this report, LP Information studies the present scenario (with the base year being 2017) and the growth prospects of global Workforce Analytics market for 2018-2023. Workforce analytics is a combination of software and methodology that applies statistical models to worker-related data, allowing enterprise leaders to optimize human resource management (HRM).

The workforce analytics solutions are expected to dominate the market from 2016 to 2022 with the largest market share, due to growing workforce challenges faced by the organizations worldwide. Among the services, due to the changing work dynamics and variations in global governmental labor regulations, the demand for consulting services is expected to gain traction in the next five years.

The Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) vertical is expected to hold the largest market share in the workforce analytics market in 2016. The healthcare sector is expected to grow at the highest CAGR from 2016 to 2022, in the workforce analytics market. The BFSI industry will be investing greater resources in the market to focus on providing better services to customers through their limited global and local workforce. Authorities are encouraging investments in the healthcare industry in a bid to modernize and digitize the industry infrastructure and workforce.

North America is expected to have the largest market share and dominate the workforce analytics market from 2016 to 2022, due to the presence of a large number of analytics vendors. Asia-Pacific (APAC) offers potential growth opportunities.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Workforce Analytics will register a 16.3% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ 1830 million by 2023, from US$ 740 million in 2017.

This report presents a comprehensive overview, market shares and growth opportunities of Workforce Analytics market by product type, application, key companies and key regions.
