The air filter is a device that collects dust from the gas-solid two-phase flow through the porous filter material, and allows the gas to be purified. It purifies air with low dust content and sends it to the interior to ensure the clean room's technical requirements and the air cleanliness of the general air-conditioned room.

It is estimated that strong industrial and infrastructure investment, coupled with increasing environmental awareness among consumers will influence the industrial air filtration market size through. In addition, financial drivers are also expected to play key roles in incentivizing end-users to enhance the performance of a manufacturing process and reduce manufacturing costs. The industry is anticipated to witness the movement of manufacturing facilities to China or Eastern Europe, primarily, to cut-down manufacturing costs. Industrial air filters are critical components of the manufacturing industry as they are used to protect sensitive and advanced manufacturing processes and reduce the risk of molecular or microbiological contaminations. They also eliminate hazardous emissions in several manufacturing processes and are expected to witness a healthy demand in the European market, owing to a spate of regulations governing these industries. It is estimated that strong industrial and infrastructure investment, coupled with increasing environmental awareness among consumers will influence the industrial air filtration market size through.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Air Filtration will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
