Grease is a liquid lubricant with a solid or semi-fluid thickener, such as soap or PTFE. Grease fulfills the same requirements as other lubricants – to reduce friction and wear, protect against corrossions, and to dissipate heat. Automotive Grease is used in bearings, joints, hinges and other components. Automotive grease avoids sticking and squeaking thus preventing components wearing out prematurely, whilst shielding against moisture and corrosion. Automotive grease consists of oil or other fluid lubricant that is mixed with a thickener, typically a soap, to form a solid or semisolid.

Considering the development of downstream industry, we estimate that the growth of automotive grease market size will continue to grow in the next five years with a 2.50% compound average growth rate to 2021.

EU, North America, China and Asia (EX. China) are the major consumption regions of automotive grease, for both passenger automotive and commercial automotive are quite mature in these regions.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Automotive Grease will register a 2.3% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ 1140 million by 2023, from US$ 1000 million in 2017.
