Fixed Power Capacitors is a kind of capacitors. A capacitor (originally known as a condenser) is a passive two-terminal electrical component used to store electrical energy temporarily in an electric field. Our report mainly covers high voltage power capacitors and low voltage power capacitors which have fixed electric capacity. Strong moves in the fixed power capacitors markets have greatly modified the competitive landscape. ABB is now a market revenue and technology leader. ABB and Schneider Electric have remained strong. Meanwhile, many of the leading manufacturers have investment to in China to build their China-based facilities. The production of fixed power capacitors was largest in China in 2015, which accounts for 38.93% of the market. The production of Europe is a bit larger than other regions with 15.70% in 2015. United States and India had similar market with 12.51% and 13.57% respectively in 2015. In terms of consumption, China is still the largest due to the fast economic growth, but China still needs to improve technology to meet the requirement of customers.

Upstream of fixed power capacitors is polypropylene films and anode foil, cathode foil as well as electrolytic paper. With the demand development, fixed power capacitors demand growth is bound to drive the growth of upstream raw materials and other relevant industries, and from this viewpoint, in the future cost and the price of fixed power capacitors will fluctuate with the price of raw materials.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that Fixed Power Capacitors will register a 2.8% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ 2200 million by 2023, from US$ 1870 million in 2017.
