Active Humidification systems are medical devices used to add moisture to inhaled air in respiratory therapy and critical care settings. These systems play a crucial role in maintaining optimal humidity levels in mechanical ventilation and respiratory support, preventing airway drying and improving patient comfort. Active humidification ensures that patients receive humidified and warmed respiratory gases, supporting lung function and overall respiratory health.

According to our research, the global market for medical devices is estimated at US$ 603 billion in the year 2023, and will be growing at a CAGR of 5% during next six years. The global healthcare spending contributes to occupy 10% of the global GDP and is continuously rising in recent years due to the increasing health needs of the aging population, the growing prevalence of chronic and infectious diseases and the expansion of emerging markets. The medical devices market plays a significant role in the healthcare industry.
