Abstracts

According to this study, the global AI Presentation Makers market size will reach US$ 1526 million by 2031.

AI presentation makers are software tools powered by artificial intelligence that assist users in creating professional, visually appealing presentations with minimal effort. These tools leverage AI to automate various aspects of the presentation creation process, such as designing slides, generating content, suggesting layouts, and even analyzing the context or data provided. AI-powered presentation makers can also offer personalized recommendations based on the user's input, making it easier to craft engaging presentations quickly. Some popular features might include auto-generation of text, design suggestions, and real-time collaboration. Examples of such tools include Beautiful.ai, Canva, and Microsoft PowerPoint's AI features.
